November Meeting Round-up

On November 20th, Ring 96 had our first ever "Ring Swap Meet." We had been planning to do a swap meet for a couple of years but the pandemic got in the way.

The event was a strong success. We had 15 sellers and a large number of guests come to browse, buy or just connect with fellow magicians.

Guests who had booths to sell their wares included, From the Hollywood Magic Castle, Jon Armstrong and Michael Mirth. Both were selling various effects physically and online.

John Cannon of Aladdin Books brought an exciting array of memorabilia and accoutrements.

Andrew Morris from the "Central Coast Magic club" drove down from San Luis Obispo to set up a table as the pandemic had canceled their own swap meet.

Mike Barry set up a fine table selling high quality close-up pads of various sizes and colors.

Several Ring members chose to thin and liquefy their collections of magic and set them out for sale.

Guests who joined us to shop and buy included Robert Baxt who has been a longtime friend to Ring 96 and several people from other magic clubs.

The event was a huge success on many levels. First, magicians who had not seen each other in person since the quarantine got to catch up. Next, many people got to clean out their magic drawers. Also the club made a few dollars selling table space, new connections were made, and some sellers made money as well.

Another innovative and exciting night at Ring 96.

How can you help?

In the last few months the Ring has been fortunate to have gained several new members. It is a good thing. What will you do to keep us moving forward? Can you take Ring flyers to your local library? Can you ask to put flyers in windows of local stores? Some will say no, some will say yes. Can you invite your friends personally to come watch events? Every new member brings in their own skill set, and so much the better for the Ring.
